HESTER CREEK'S LOGO

The Hester Creek logo depicted on the wine label features a stylized image of a female swimmer paddling behind a stylized fish. The swimmer is dedicated to the memory of Hester White (nee. Haynes) who grew up in the area on the family's sprawling cattle ranch. The creek is named after Hester, who, according to legend, enjoyed the creek and loved to swim. The fish and the swimmer are symbolic of days past – reminiscent of life lived at a gentler pace and punctuated by simple pleasures such as enjoying nature, the landscapes and swimming. Hester Emily White passed on November 15, 1963 at the age of 85, though many of her descendents continue to enjoy the simple pleasures the South Okanagan Valley offers, and still live in the area.
